MEDIA RELEASE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE 15th January 2015

NEW GUARD AT COOKANDWAITER

After 12 years in the business Peter Lin and John Wilson have passed the catering baton over to long-time colleague and creative collaborator David O'Brien.

David officially took over the business in late 2014, after having worked closely with Cook and Waiter as a creative consultant and Executive Chef since the beginning of 2014.

David is considered Australia's most preeminent event chef, having most recently held the position of Executive Chef, Events at Justin Hemmes' Merivale Group for the last 5 years.

David's reputation and proven track record in creating and delivering stylish food under intense pressure is well known. He has held tenures with some of the world's most exclusive catering companies and has cooked for the most prestigious clients en masse in Europe's finest venues.

With David's passion for food and the existing event team behind him, Cook and Waiter guarantees to continue delivering the high standard events they have built their reputation on.
